A SIGN OF THE TIMES THAT BEER IS HERE

Many eager hands came to the aid of J. E. (Ernie) Cowan manager of the Capri Motor Hotel, Kelowna, to tear up the "no beer" sign that had blighted the door of the beer parlor as a result of the Vancouver brewery strike. The eight-week long strike was settled Thursday and no time was lost in rushing supplies of the amber stuff to all points.

Copters Face Heavy Fire To Rescue Downed Pilot

PLEIKU (AP)—U.S. Air Force and army helicopters braved Viet Cong small-arms fire today to rescue an American pilot shot down during the siege of the special forces camp at Pleiku. Capt. Melvin Elliott, 36, of Glendale, Ariz., was stranded for 30 hours about 100 yards from the camp's outer defense perimeter, about 25 miles south of Pleiku.

Weather Only Question Mark Remaining On Gemini Launch

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The first Gemini 6 launch is scheduled for today. The weather is the only question mark remaining over the launch area Monday, but so far they are not expected to be serious enough to bar the launching of the Gemini 6 and the target Agena.

The Canada Pension Plan and its benefits

Here is what the Canada Pension Plan will do for people like Clark Kilgore, a 60-year-old professional engineer who earns $11,000 a year.

Have you tried this unusually smooth whisky?

Smoothness is your Premium because you don't usually find quality of this kind in this price category. What's more, every drop of Premium is true Canadian whisky - still being made from 100% Canadian rye grain for traditional flavour and smoothness. Ask for Premium next time you buy rye.

ALBERTA DISTILLERS, LIMITED CALGARY ALBERTA

This advertisement is not published or displayed by the Liquor Control Board or by the Government of British Columbia.

Clark will probably retire sometime during the next ten years. This ten years is the transitional period for the Canada Pension Plan and during it, only proportionate retirement pensions are payable. Thus, if Clark works until age 65 and then claims a retirement pension, he will receive $52.08 a month. If he works until age 67 he will receive $72.92 a month. Should he work until age 70 he will get the full retirement pension of $104.17 a month.

If Clark retires before he is 65 he will be entitled to a proportionate pension which will become payable when he reaches that age. Also at age 65, whether he is working or not, he will receive the Old Age Security pension of $75 a month.

While retirement pensions will be paid on a reduced basis before 1976, survivor's benefits will be paid in full beginning in 1968. Thus, if Clark Kilgore dies anytime after 1967, his wife will receive a widow's pension of $64.06 a month if she is under 65 but over 45. If she is 65 or over, her widow's pension will be $62.50 a month and she will also receive the $75 a month Old Age Security pension. At the time of her husband's death, Mrs. Kilgore will also be entitled to a lump sum payment of $500.

All benefits under the Plan will maintain their value. The actual benefits payable will probably be higher than those given here since benefits will be adjusted to meet changes in living costs.

Furthermore, it must be remembered that all Canada Pension Plan pensions and benefits are additional to any to which you may be entitled through your employment or personal planning.

What will the Plan cost you?

If you, like Clark, earn $11,000 a year, you will only pay 1.8% of $4,400, the maximum amount on which contributions are payable. If your earnings are spread evenly over the year you will contribute $15.60 a month until your contributions for the year total $79.20. Your employer will pay the same amount.

This advertisement is one of a series which relates some of the important benefits of the Canada Pension Plan to individual circumstances.

Issued by authority of the Minister of National Health and Welfare, Canada, The Honourable Judy LaMarsh.

Hallowe'en On Saturday

When is Hallowe'en not Hallowe'en? Apparently when it comes to the Hallowe'en parade on Saturday. The city has been blocked off for the parade on Saturday, Oct. 23, off into sections. Twenty-five will be celebrated as Hallowe'en on vehicles will be in use with two men to a car.

Parents are asked to see "We must avoid any sign of their children go out for 'Trick or Treat' on Saturday only."

The city and RCMP will keep a strict vigilance for any city limits. The city will take a very dim view of anyone found using caution in proceeding along city streets, filled with young people, equipped with view may be hampered by masks.

"There will be 10 members of the RCMP, 10 auxiliary police, an adult accompanying them," the city crews, members of the police said.

Invasion Of Hunters Expected Through Okanagan On Weekend

The Okanagan hills and Kelowna area will be invaded by hunters this weekend as the deer season opens today. Game Warden Don Stewart said the season extends to Nov. 14.

Game wardens in the Vernon, Kelowna and Penticton areas will be setting up road blocks and check points to keep track of the kill, Mr. Stewart said.

They will also check for infractions, licenses and any violations of the game act.

The number of hunters, noted at the Cache Creek checking station up to and including Oct. 21 is up over the same period in 1964.

The department of recreation and conservation said today

Dismissal Won On Robbery

Case was dismissed in county court Friday against an 18-year-old West Vancouver man, Bruce Alan Cameron, accused of robbing an elderly Kelowna woman of her purse and contents.

The trial was held before Judge A. D. C. Washington of Penticton, who said the crown failed to prove its case.

The charge arose as a result of an incident Aug. 3, 1965, when Mrs. Kestla McFadden had her purse snatched as she walked on a city street.

A boy and a policeman pursued a young man. The young man got away.

Sunny Weather Set For Weekend

It will be sunny today and Sunday in the Okanagan, Lillooet and South Thompson regions, with light winds and little change in temperature.

Low tonight and high Sunday at Penticton and Kamloops, 30 and 40; Creston Valley, 32 and 40; Revelstoke, 32 and 40.

Last year on Oct. 22 there was a high of 35 and a low of 28 in Kelowna. This year it was 37 and 32.

MUSICALLY SPEAKING

With BETHEL STEELE

Thursday the Kelowna Art Exhibit Society's second panel in "Explorations in Art" proved once again this group of art lovers is fulfilling badly needed assistance to the artist and layman alike, not only in Kelowna itself but in the Valley as well. Furthermore attendance this time was up over 100, so all you doubting Thomases, should you so decide, would do well to get there early in future otherwise you could be left standing. The society may have to move to larger quarters if this keeps up.

An outstanding panel made up of Peter Loftis and Robert Reid, of Kelowna; and Irvine Adams of Summerland were in attendance with Douglas Eliuk representing the National Film Board. Al Jensen, moderator for the evening was his usual ebullient self, with a firm and intelligent control on the proceedings.

The gratifying attendance augurs well for a furtherance of a broader educational program in art throughout the Valley, on the basis of the participation of the layman. Far too often activities in the field of painting consist of the voicing of opinions by the artist, the critic and the so called specialists alone with some factions more vocal than others.

Thursday night we heard from all factions, those representing the objective as well as the subjective. Frederick Varley, at work and were given an insight into this artist's feelings and thoughts concerning mankind's preoccupation with war and his own search for beauty.

The second film dealt with the Dutch artist, Karel Appel . . . one of the present day abstractionist "Art Brute" painters whose work is . . . (we were told) . . . hung in all the great galleries of the world, and who as he himself said . . . "painted like a barbarian in a barbaric age."

Each panelist was allowed three minutes. Our short hand was not short enough to catch Mr. Eliuk in full flood but we did manage to filter out . . . that "he did not believe in credos . . . that one need not find the expected in a piece of art . . . and that each piece is one man's expression."

Mr. Reid said he was . . . "not for or against any isolated art form . . . that our understanding depends on how we are taught to view the various forms . . . that the means justifies the end . . . it is the result that matters . . . and that only time can tell the value of any one piece of art. Time is the arbiter."

Mr. Adams was concerned with pointing out that "magic realism" has moved along in keeping with all the present day popular "isms" only the "isms" are more vocal and fashionable with the critics and dealers . . . that the subconscious as the "isms" state, does not create . . . that the artist must have technical skill, appreciation and observation . . . and that each one of us has to make our own meaning of art . . . and he reminded us that Webster has 15 meanings for the word "art!"

Mr. Loftis as a librarian reminded us "painting is a minor part of a whole field of communication . . . painting is an expression of ideas . . . and to whom should the true artist communicate . . . to the gawky watchers . . . or to the elite. Mr. Loftis here expressed frustration and said he felt strongly that the artist must ask himself this question . . . Mr. Loftis also asked us all . . . "to state what we really think about painting, not what we think people think we should say . . . this includes the artist, the dealer, the critic and the man on the street . . . let's be honest!" We were asked "not to inflate the painter out of all proportion to his place in society . . . to consider abstract painting is purely of a decorative value in an architectural sense and to please remember that in a today's 1/70th of the history of art, the artist has gone off on a tangent and left man bewildered . . . and furthermore if any artist, no matter what the medium, has a great talent, he will communicate with the viewer . . . IN DEPTH!"

Questions from the floor were mainly on what constituted art and why, and who set present day standards. The discussion will be continued next week.

It is to be hoped that in future all members of the Art Exhibit Society executive will remember that when a moderator is appointed he should be paid the courtesy of allowing him to use his own judgment as to when a discussion should end. It was unfortunate that the wonderful enthusiasm Thursday night was cut off in mid-flight.

500 TEACHERS GATHER FOR WORKSHOP

More than 500 primary and elementary school teachers gathered at the Dr. Knox secondary school today, coming from all parts of the province. They arrived by car, bus and aeroplane, jamming the parking lot and halls of the school. The main speaker of the day was Dr. Irwin Slesnick, professor of Science at the Western Washington State University in Bellingham, Washington. A portion of the large audience is seen in the photograph above, as Dr. Slesnick delivers his speech concerning the scientific revolution in which the day is involved. The teachers gathered to discuss various subjects and courses, which will be done in separate groups pertaining to the subjects taught by each teacher.

Education Must Develop With Scientific Advances

Dr. Irwin Slesnick, professor of science at the Western Washington State University, Bellingham, Washington, said today that the world is in the midst of a scientific revolution, and that our educational program must be developed to cope with these advances.

The professor said the response to this sudden change-over has been to "pile it on" with extra hours of homework and thicker text books.

"This has tended to obscure the true beauty of our courses," he said, "as they are being delivered to the student. Science today is being given to the student more in a form of a translation, than something wonderful and mystifying.

"This is the job of our teachers. They have to continue to find these advances in a multitude of different ideas, all fields. A new world has been created, and we find ourselves a student much in the same way that a scientist makes a discovery.

"The courses should be presented as though we do not know what the outcome of an experiment will be, and that every discovery we make is our own."

The teachers came by car, bus, and aeroplane from all parts of B.C. to attend the one-day workshop, and the parking lot and hallways of the school were jammed.

It was feared that many of the main speakers of the workshop would not be able to attend, due to fog grounding two aeroplanes in Vancouver, but after a short wait, the pilots were given the go-ahead, and the aeroplanes landed safely at the Kelowna airport.

Sectional meetings were held from 11 a.m.-12:30 p.m., with speakers from Delta School District, UBC, and Kamloops.

Miss R. Seim, Delta, spoke on the Language Arts, discussing the new program, with emphasis on grade two.

Professor Eric MacPherson, UBC, discussed modern mathematics in the primary grades.

Beth Cook, of Kamloops, spoke on puppetry for the language arts.

Officials for the convention were: general conveners, Eva Crandell, Port Alberni, and Isabella LaBounty, North Surrey. Registrations, Mrs. B. Reid, Kelowna publicity, Mrs. Lorna Lobb, Richmond; plane reservations, Mrs. Elma Buhler, New Westminster.

Conduct Service For Soldier With Distinguished War Record

Funeral service was held in Vancouver Friday for a veteran of two World Wars, and a man with a distinguished service career.

Albert Walter (Pat) Sparling, 74, of 1251 Lawrence Ave., died in the Kelowna General hospital Oct. 20. He had been a resident of this city since his retirement in 1956.

He held the Distinguished Service Order and two bars from the First World War and was five times mentioned in despatches.

During the Second World War he was awarded the Empire Decoration.

RED PATCH

Mr. Sparling was born in Pilot Mound, Manitoba.

He went overseas in 1914 with the First Division, Canadian Expeditionary Force and later served with the 10th Battalion and in various staff capacities.

In July 1917 he was appointed to command the First (Ontario) Battalion, CEF, and served with them until April 1919, when the unit was returned to Canada.

Following the war he was made a Freeman of the city of Galt, Ontario.

MADE COLONEL

During the Second World War he served in various capacities including personal representative of the officer commanding M.D. 11, Vancouver and commander of Vancouver defences.

In June 1942 he was appointed officer commanding 38th (RT) brigade, with the rank of colonel. The brigade was comprised of all reserve military units in B.C.

In 1943 he was awarded the Empire Decoration. He retired from the army in September, 1945.

He was appointed secretary-manager, regional reconstruction council for B.C., with headquarters in Vancouver. When the department of reconstruction was abolished, he joined war assets corporation, Vancouver, in the sale of lands and buildings.

Before retiring to Kelowna he was with the firm of H. J. Bird and company.

Surviving are his wife, Ethel, one son Walter, Calgary; one daughter, Mary (Mrs. F. Vogel), Lancaster, Ont., and two grandsons.

Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Norman Roulette, San Diego, Cal., and Mrs. Melville East, Saskatoon, and one brother, Harvey, Pender Harbour, B.C.

Funeral service was followed by cremation in Vancouver. Clarke and Dixon were entrusted with the arrangements.

Drive-In Looted Say $500 Taken

A large sum of money was taken from the A and W Drive In, 17799 Glenmore St., police reported at 8:10 a.m. Friday.

RCMP said J. D. Delcourt, manager, said between $500 and $600 in cash was missing from a filing cabinet. Nothing else was apparently touched. The theft occurred overnight.

Entry was gained through a window. Mr. Delcourt told police the thieves seemed to have gone directly from the window to the filing cabinet. Police are investigating.

City Gets Beer —Crowds Cheer

The beer poured in overnight and the crowds turned out today.

Kelowna is no longer an isolated settlement as far as ale is concerned and the citizens can stop their thirst treks to the Kootenays and the state of Washington.

Jenkins Cartage company received the first huge transport trailer load early today and immediately rushed the precious brew to trucks where it was transported to city outlets.

The liquor store received adequate supplies and at opening time there was a steady stream of customers.

Some regulars, still wary of the B.C. strike settlement, loaded up with 10-15 extra cases. There was no rationing in effect.

LOTS OF BEER

At the Capri Motor Inn, there was a huge crowd at the opening bell.

The first official act was performed by Ernie Cowan, tavern manager, who smilingly tore up a sign that had plagued the establishment—"Sorry, no beer."

A count of the two beer parlors 10 minutes after opening revealed a total of 50 men and women, and cars arriving by the minute.

Busiest parker downtown was the Royal Anne, with 50-75 thirsty Saturday shoppers bustling through the doors.

Joe Keenan came up with a novel idea for the re-opening in a sign on the wall. It read: "Welcome Back."

The Willow Inn started at a steady pace, with 20 regulars waiting outside for the door to open.

In all three places, there was a noted air of gaiety, mingled with relief.

As one man remarked as he lifted his first amber glass—"this has been a long, long wait."

The strike at the coast had serious repercussions in Kelowna, for the city outlets rely heavily on the bar trade during the off season.

The strike has closed most parlors for more than a month, and the revenues lost, added to waiters' and bartenders' wages, created an unhappy situation in the hotel trade.

EMPTY GO

One manager said: "We had nothing to do with the strike but we had to suffer, along with the hostilities in Vancouver."

"We have managed to hold on, but it was hard on employees."

Jenkins Cartage, which acts as the middleman for beer in Kelowna, was relieved at the sudden turn.

The pickup of empty cases had perplexed officials, but the latest report was one boxer had loaded today. They hope to have the warehouse back to normal by Monday and will be receiving the fresh supplies.

Students To Take Over Kelowna On One-Day Exploration Tour

Seventy-seven secondary school students will reign as kings and queens of Kelowna for a day as they assume various offices from mayor to game warden, Monday.

Public business offices will be invaded by Grade XII students as they take part in the 13th annual civic administration day, sponsored by the Kelowna Rotary club.

Ald. L. A. N. Potterton, who first initiated the program, said the purpose of Civic Administration Day is to give students an insight into the workings of the city.

Taking part are students from the Kelowna secondary and intermediate high schools. They will assume the following duties in the city:

City of Kelowna: mayor, Robert Tordiffe; deputy mayor, Kip Butler; aldermen: Jean Allan, Shirley Schiewe, Maurice Jenkin, Candy Bocking, Linda Markle, Bob Lipsett, Bob Rebagliati; city clerk, Carolyn Prosser; comptroller, Marion Earle; city engineer, Gary August and Don Gagnon; fire department: Mario Truant, Dick Van Nostrand, Richard Mooney; parks board: Linda Williams; recreation commission, Boots Elsdon; city assessment, Stuart Grave; magistrate, Carole Orme.

In the field of communications, these students will assume duties at the various media: KCOV, Jill Pittendrigh, Ken Chapman, Dave Mearns, Paul Loch.

Games warden will be Phillip Barre and Dennis Hawksworth. At the Kelowna General Hospital, the following will take over these posts: nursing, Sharon Locke, Jane Morrison, Helen Kirk, Helen Weber, Wendy Thompson, and Barbara Holby; X-ray, Shirley Giggie and Leslie Sharp; laboratory, Diana Tomiye, Gillian Mackenzie, Philip Leach, and Linda Buchanan; dietitians, Anne Baseri, Diane Miller, Anne Solvay, Janis Thorburn, Debbie Strickland, and Bernice Casorso; records, Margaret Cundy and Peggy Dierker; and hospital pharmacist, Allan Neid.

Health unit staff will consist of Diane Waterman, Sandra Grainger, and Barbara Bowles. Horticulture department will be represented by Dave Hobson, Chris DeHart, and Doug Bullock.

Impaired Count Brings Remand

William Richard Stirling, Kelowna, pleaded not guilty in magistrate's court Friday to an impaired driving charge and was remanded to Oct. 29 for trial.

William Roger Jackson, Kelowna, was fined $25 or in default 10 days when he pleaded guilty to a charge of having a faulty muffler.

Guy Ricker, Okanagan Centre, pleaded not guilty to a charge of failing to yield the right of way but was convicted and fined $25.

Should Take Positive Action, NDP'er Tells Penticton Rally

Alex Turner, NDP candidate for Okanagan Boundary in the November 8 federal election, Friday night told 40 young people in Penticton they should get out and support their political party during the election campaign so they would know how our political system works.

He was speaking at a youth rally in Penticton's Knights of Pythias hall.

"Young people must not be content to simply protest the actions of their governments, but rather take positive action to provide an alternative," he said.

"Many young people have chosen to criticize our government rather than to make a positive contribution. If you do not believe in what your government is doing you must do something to help replace it with a better alternative."

"I believe the goals of the New Democratic Party are goals that most young people can agree with. We believe our government must solve the problems of unemployment and poverty and cope with automation."

READY TO ROLL FOR CONVENTION

Three Kelowna men are very busy getting ready for the 14th annual convention of the B.C. automotive retailers' association to be held at the Capri Motor Hotel, Oct. 25 and 26.

They are from the left: Peter Hatal, in charge of arrangements, John Dechner, president of the Kelowna branch, and H. N. "Rockey" Curtis, convention chairman. Some 200 garage, service station, auto body and wrecker operators are expected to attend from all parts of B.C., arriving Sunday. On the agenda is resolutions and a series of talks by out of town speakers, on subjects of interest to automotive retailers. Ron P. A. Gaudard, minister of high ways is the guest speaker for the stag luncheon Tuesday. The convention ends with banquet in the Aquatic Tuesday at 6 p.m.

Christian "Counterfeiters" Will Eventually Be Found

"For we are the circumcision which worship God in the spirit, and rejoice in Jesus Christ, and have no confidence in the flesh." (Phil. 3:3).

There is a vast difference between a genuine Christian and one who only takes the name or makes a profession. In all generations the church has been plagued by the latter group.

The Apostle Paul had to deal with this very thing in the Philippian Church. The controversy between Judaism and Christianity was acute. Judaizing teachers were disturbing the people no end. To them the essence of religion lay in ordinances, meat and drink, divers washings and ceremonies. Paul contended against those outward trappings and said they were valueless. After sounding forth a three-fold warning against such false leaders, he lists the three characteristics that mark a Christian.

First of all we notice that the true Christian worships God in the spirit. To the woman at the well (John 4:24) Jesus said, "God is a spirit and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth."

Worship is not a ceremonial act prompted by ancient example or prescribed by custom and tradition. It is in no way mechanical but springs spontaneously from the heart.

The test of a Christian is not what ritual he goes through or what profession he makes, but whether he worships the Lord with his whole spirit, soul, and body.

The second thing we notice in our text is the fact that a true Christian rejoices in Jesus Christ. To "rejoice in Jesus Christ" embodies more than it would seem on the surface to imply. Some versions word it "glory in Jesus Christ." That in which one glories is the main thing in his life. The Juda-izers gloried in their traditions, their ceremonies and their outward forms. Present day religionists glory in their good deeds, who they are, what they have accomplished or what they have refrained from doing.

A genuine Christian overlooks his accomplishments and failures, he glories or rejoices in Jesus Christ and what the Lord has accomplished in his behalf.

Thirdly we notice the true Christian is one who has no confidence in the flesh. The flesh Paul refers to is anything the natural man is or possesses, whether it appears to be good or bad.

Many religions probe to discover the supposed good in man and try to cultivate it. The Bible says that man is essentially bad and that the best in man cannot be depended upon. At the very best the fleshly man is corrupt. Jeremiah says, "Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, whose heart departeth from the Lord" (Jer. 17:5).

Paul declares that there is no good thing in the flesh (Rom. 7:8) and "they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh (Rom. 8:5).

You can tell a real Christian by whether his dependence is in the flesh or in the Lord. Yes, there are counterfeiters, but they will be found out, Jesus said, "Let both grow together until the harvest, and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, gather ye together first the tares and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn" (Matt. 13:30).

Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of our Father. Who hath ears to hear, let him hear. (Matt. 13:43).

Man Of Stature

(Victoria Colonist)

Quebec has produced some pretty fine Canadians over the years: statesmen, jurists, artists and military men, teachers, preachers and hockey players. They run the whole gamut of distinction, and have contributed immensely to our national honor, culture and dignity.

One of them is Claude Wagner, the attorney-general in Mr. Jean Lesage's cabinet.

Mr. Wagner first impressed the nation — and incidentally risked his political career in the process — when he reacted with courage and determination to the threats of anarchists, separatists and hoodlums against the dignity, even the life, of Queen Elizabeth. He sent the Quebec Provincial Police smashing into the ranks of demonstrators who were shouting obscenities at Her Majesty. Backed by Quebec city policemen and the RCMP, the forces of the law quelled this most ugly and reprehensible demonstration.

There was an outcry against Mr. Wagner. But he was not cowed.

Since that time he had gained in stature by his outspoken criticism of "the bird-brained anarchists who often make fools and tools of well-intentioned young people," as he puts it. And he has condemned the multitudes of leagues of "do-gooders" for the gentling of the criminal.

Now he is engaged in a war against the Quebec underworld: in particular the arson and bankruptcy organizers.

Already police have discovered five bodies — and there may be more, the attorney-general says — of potential witnesses against the crime syndicates; men slain to stop their mouths.

The murders are part of the pattern of reaction against Mr. Wagner's campaign to destroy the underworld powers. They are the acts of desperate men. Confronted by such a man as Wagner they have cause for desperation.

In this part of Canada organized crime undoubtedly exists — as in the nefarious narcotics rackets — and there are always those prone to violence. If ever we are faced with the same sort of lawlessness that Mr. Wagner has uncovered in Quebec let us hope there will emerge a man who can measure up to Quebec's attorney-general.

Bygone Days

10 YEARS AGO

October 1956

George Snowden, president of the Federation of Fruit and Vegetable Workers, has taken over the post of director of organization from Brian Conney who is reported to have joined the Teamsters Union. There is a move on the part of some locals to affiliate with the AFL rather than the CIO.

20 YEARS AGO

October 1946

Plans are under way for the annual Shell-Out drive, sponsored by the local Kiwanis, to raise funds for Kelowna youth organizations. It will also provide kiddies with a lot of harmless fun on Halloween. H. A. Lethbridge, Gill Mervyn and F. W. Nicklen are in charge of this year's campaign.

In Passing

People are minking more money than ever before, in these days of inflation, but there's very little profit in it.

Something many would like to see advertised on television: An effective remedy for a pain in the neck brought on by blatant and irritating commercials.

A physiologist says that if you come to know a man intimately you will find he is far from perfect. This supports any wife's opinion on the subject.

THE ELECTION SYMPHONY

LOOKING BACK WITH OLD STAGER

Change Of Name Noted In Valley

By ART GRAY

Over the years since Michael Hagan made his voyage down Okanagan Lake in 1888, many of the names for the points of rail, the creeks, mountains and the land features along the shore have changed.

By his description, however, many may be recognized. On the left they passed what he called Picnic Point, which undoubtedly refers to the well known Otter Bay camping site, with its double bay and rocky promontory, long the camping spot of Vernon Boy Scouts, Cubs and Girl Guides, and now a government park for tourists.

On the west side he refers to prominent high mountains as "Sugar Loaf Peak," "Sleeping Beaver," and "Hamil Peak," all on the west, in the vicinity of Capt. Short's Fallbrook Ranch. Which one refers to what we now call Terrace Mountain is hard to say.

He refers also to Wood-Potill (Potill) landing, on the east side (a little north of the present Okanagan Centre) where "the stock range is extensive," he states.

Next came Bear Creek, on the west, with some 30 acres of flat land at the lake. He had been there before, it seems, for he refers to having, upon a previous occasion, followed the creek for a few miles to the mining location.

THOUSAND HEAD

"Seven miles back," he states, "is a large range on which a thousand head, driven around the foot of the lake from the Mission, are grazing and doing well." (Lequime's stock.)

Reaching Knox's Point (Poplar Point) on the east side, the steamer rounded into the harbor and made a landing at Knox's wharf. (Located at Manhattan near present site of Simpson's Mill), and he says "Mr. Knox has a warehouse, with 120 tons of wheat." The trip had taken five hours—about eight miles per hour.

His stop here was brief, the steamer taking on two tons of flour for Messrs. Lequime and Co., to be sent to Rock Creek from Penitence, over the mountain pack trail. The boat now headed for Paris south, and the veteran newsman recalled the story of the Armstrong-Phillips murder case, an event that was then only three years old, and fresh in his mind, for undoubtedly, as the editor of the "Sentinel" at the time he covered the trial.

INDIANS OKAY

The Indian School superintendent could not help being interested in the Indians, and his account mentions all the various reserves. Of the Westbank he comments on the reserve "extending for miles, only a small part utilized, but as game is plentiful the wants of the natives are thus supplied." Eight miles south, he says, is the "Bill Jenkins ranch, now owned by Messrs. Lambly and Young of Spallumcheen" and refers to a large band of horses being pastured there.

Trout Creek is next, and here were located the land claims of Duncan Wood and James Gartrell, on an extensive flat. "Not far away," he says, "is the Carville and Co.'s ranch, now run by George Barclay, a young Englishman who looks upon his British Columbia home as a paradise."

The boat now approached Penitence, where Inngan comments that "The east side of the lake, and around the foot of the lake is the private property of Mr. Ellis. He has resided here for many years as a stockman, and now counts upon immense stretches of territory, and places the number of his stock, we are told, at over 2,000."

"His residence is a comfortable one, and his outbuildings summarous. At the time of our arrival Mr. Ellis and his wife, Mrs. Arthur Day, his foreman, politely furnished us with information respecting trails, etc. The orchard at the house has a variety of apple, peach and plum trees, greenhouses, cherries, etc. There was an enormous hay stack, said to contain 200 tons. It is stated that $50 to 600 tons was put up annually."

Upon the west side of the river is another Indian Reserve and a goodly number of the natives are settled there, and are comfortably "at home."

SETTLERS "UNWANTED"

He made inquiries respecting openings for settlement in Similkameen and Osoyoos, but nothing definite could be ascertained. "Generally speaking," he writes, "large ranchers, and those in their employ, are reticent in giving information. More is thought of keeping cattle ranges than an increase of settlers."

Returning northward the boat stopped at the Okanagan Mission on the evening of July 20, and Hagan stopped over for several days on business. His comments give us a chance to meet the prominent citizens of the community in those early days, six years before Bernard Lequime laid out Kelowna townsite, and just 29 years after the arrival of Father Pandosy.

"The Mission had a humble beginning," he wrote, "but now there is a beautiful church, comfortable residence, well stocked ranch and a garden without a rival in the inland country." "Mr. and Mrs. Eli Lequime and family have overcome many difficulties and now are wealthy. Mr. Joseph Christian, another old timer, possesses wide fields and lands of stock, and a comfortable home."

The same may be said of Dan Nicholson, LeFevre, Knox and others in the valley. Some 12,000 acres is now occupied by over a score of settlers. Attention is turning to fruit growing, and the prospect is good the present year for a fair yield of apples at the Mission, at Mission, Lequime while Mr. Knox and others have good promise in their new orchards."

LARGE FAMILY

"Mr. Brant (Brent) J.P. came at an early day, and in addition to raising a large family, now settling around him, his enterprise has accumulated a valuable property. Mr. John Conroy is adding to his gains and likely soon to be among the independent men in the district. Stopping overnight with the Postill Brothers (the still spelled it Potill) we had an opportunity to see their extensive ranch, proof of what can be done by a united, enterprising and industrious family."

Leaving Okanagan Mission he then toured the North Okanagan country, his account of what he saw there in 1888 will be related in another article. Like many a visitor to the Valley, he returned again to take up residence, and passed his last years in the Okanagan Mission valley.

Making Mountain Out Of A Lump

By DR. JOSEPH G. MOHNER

Dear Dr. Mohner: When our oldest boy, now four, was nine months old, we discovered a lump in his neck. A doctor said it was an enlarged lymph gland. Since then I have had him in for checkups and three different doctors have said the same thing.

The last doctor was the only one who came close to recommending that it be removed, and he said it was up to us to decide, on the basis of whether it would improve his appearance.

Now we have discovered a similar enlarged gland on our eight-month-old boy. If not removed, will these glands harm the boys or turn into cancer? Will the glands get larger? Do you recommend their removal? —MRS. J.B.

Are you sure you aren't making a mountain out of a lump? Enlargement of a lymph gland is not unusual in children, and in ordinary circumstances is not alarming. (That is to say, there are ominous diseases which involve the lymph glands, but they are not very frequent, and they are readily diagnosed.)

An enlarged gland is commonly the result of some infection. The gland's purpose is to filter off wastes resulting from the infection, and the gland can swell. It may or may not return gradually toward its original size, but it still is serviceable. It does not "turn into cancer," and aside from being lumpy, is not likely to do any harm.

A succession of doctors have given you the same answer. I wonder whether you have been searching for someone who will give you a different answer and provide an excuse for surgery. I certainly do not recommend removal of an enlarged lymph gland just because it exists.

If the gland continues to enlarge, if other glands show enlargement, if the child has a fever, or there are other signs of focal infection such symptoms as these would call for further investigation, possibly even removal of one node for biopsy, but only if there are significant symptoms.

If the children are healthy, disregard the enlarged glands.

CANADA'S STORY

Great Businessman Was Jean Colbert

By BOB BOWMAN

In the 1860s France had a great minister in Jean Baptiste Colbert. He formed the company of the West which was to develop all the French Colonies, including Canada, or New France as it was called. Colbert intended to build the greatest empire the world had ever known.

In 1870 he sent Jean Talon to Canada as lieutenant, or business manager. He was a worthy representative of the great Colbert, and if there had been more men like him, Canada might easily have belonged to France today.

Talon began his job on Oct. 22, 1870 and in a few years had developed ship building and fishing industries, and had survey parties looking for minerals. As settlers began to come from France there was a great need for housing. As each home needed a good deal of land for raising its own food, and hemp for making clothes, there was a problem. If the homes were widely separated, they could easily be attacked by the Indians.

Talon solved the problem by having each home built on a tract of land shaped like wedges of pie. The homes were built at the apex of the triangle, where they could be close together, while the land behind them widened sufficiently for farming.

Each settler had to clear two acres of land for himself, and also two acres on other tracts to pave the way for new settlers coming later.

Cattle, horses, sheep and pigs were sent out from France and multiplied. Their hides led to the establishment of a tanning industry. Women were given looms to weave the wool from the sheep, and so began the weaving of blankets and carpets that is an outstanding attribute of Quebec even today.

Canada, under France, made its greatest progress when Talon was lieutenant.

OTHER EVENTS ON OCTOBER 22:

- 1786 Government of New Brunswick moved to St. Anne's Point (Fredericton).
- 1837 "British Party" met at Montreal: rebellion brewing.
- 1847 Telegraph service opened Montreal to Albany, New York.
- 1952 Canadians in heavy fighting in Korea: battle "Little Gibraltar Hill".
- 1958 Seventy-eight miners killed at Springhill, N.S.

THE RELIEF OF B.C. OR PATIENCE REWARDED

Men will tell of the long, dry spell
That hit us in '65,
Of whole towns cursed by a raging thirst
And the struggle to stay alive.
They tell of the drought as the beer ran out
And the spectre of empty shelves,
As the men grew grey and wasted away
To ghosts of their former selves.
And they dreamed of sips that had passed their lips
In a sleep that was blessed by beers,
But the dream was gone in the cruel, dry dawn
Leaving only the taste of tears.
And for many long weeks those tear-stained cheeks
Were worn like a badge of pain,
Then a whisper... a shout... and a cry rang out:
"Lucky Lager's back again!!!"
You could hear them cheer for that big, bold beer
From Comox to Williams Lake,
And all through the day you could hear men say:
"Give yourself a Lucky break!"
So when men grow old and tall tales are told
They'll say of "The Great Thirst Saga"
That the drought they faced was worth the taste
Of that first glass of Lucky Lager!

(with apologies to Robert Service)

Give yourself a LUCKY break

PATHFINDERS RECEIVE AWARDS FOR PAST YEAR

The Rutland Pathfinder Club set off to a good start for 1964-65 when Dr. A. W. N. Druff, who is club director for his 13th year, presented awards to the three best Pathfinders of the previous year. Dr. Druff is shown above presenting the award for being the top Pathfinder for 1964-65 in punctuality, attendance, achievement, citizenship and a general club spirit, to Donna MacKay. The runners-up who received second and third medals respectively are Audrey Reimche (centre) and Elizabeth Verschoor, left.

Women Of Ku Klux Klan Stand Silently By Their Husbands

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — They stand silently beside their husbands as fiery crosses light up the night and toss reflections on strands of their hair. They speak from the back of a pickup truck about their duties to the white race — and then go home to teach the Bible to their children. They wear flowing white robes and pointed hoods — even when they take a basket full of toys and food to Negro children.

ANN LANDERS

Not Only The Boys Have Gone Haywire

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 17-year-old girl who agrees with what you said about that high school boy who put blonde streaks in his hair. This is not just my opinion, but the opinion of every girl I have talked to today.

We all feel that boys are becoming too feminine. A boy who would streak his hair is repulsive, abhorrent, insufferable, nauseating, disgusting, and icky.

How can males expect females to respect them if they get themselves up to look like women? Don't they realize their greatest attraction is that they are the opposite sex? You have my permission to print my letter and I hope you do.

THUMBES DOWN ON BEACHED BLONDE BOYS
Dear Thumb: Thanks for your views. And now I'd like to remind you girls that your greatest attraction is that you are members of the opposite sex.

Girls who get themselves up to look like boys are repulsive, abhorrent, insufferable, nauseating, disgusting, and icky. Dear Ann Landers: For the past three days I've received a telephone call between 11:00 a.m. and 11:15 a.m. A cultured voice says, "I think you should know your husband is having an affair with his office man."

Princess Margaret Centre Of Union Disputel

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret today became the centre of a mild jurisdictional dispute between two unions. The Queen's younger sister is to open the new £22,000,000 building of the Birmingham Post and Mail Tuesday by starting the presses. A spokesman for the National Society of Operative Printers and Assistants said she would be made a member of their union since only union members can start the presses.

But today John Bonfield, joint secretary of the National Graphical Association, said only members of his union are qualified to start rotary presses. "The only people who have the right to start up rotary printing presses are the machine managers, members of union," said Bonfield. "This is all very childish and silly," said Jack Perry, secretary of the other union's Birmingham branch. "Of course the machine managers are in charge—but they do not start the presses. This is done by our members."

"Technically, for the job she will be doing, Princess Margaret should be in our union, but it is quite right to say that in turning on the presses she should be working under the supervision of the NGA."

"I think the NGA people must be a bit jealous because we are having a royal member and they are not."

Dear Ann Landers: I asked for your advice four years ago and didn't take it. Today I am writing to tell you I am sorry. When you advise other girls not to force a marriage because a baby is on the way, I hope they will listen to you.

I was only 16, scared, ignorant and so ashamed of having disgraced my family that I couldn't hold my head up, much less give them an argument. My father went to see Dan's father and they practically dragged him to the justice of the peace.

Our marriage has been a living hell from the beginning. Dan walks in and out of our flat without telling me where he's going. He gets phone calls from girls who think I am his sister. They leave telephone numbers and ask that he call back. I can't count the number of times I've washed lipstick out of his shirt. Dan doesn't care about the baby and says she may not be his.

Our pastor called the situation hopeless and says I should divorce Dan and start life over. If I had listened to you I could have saved myself four years of agony, and my baby could have had a decent home with both a mother and a father. Please print my letter. It may help someone else.

STUBBORN AND BORRY
Dear Sorry: Unfortunately many people have to get their own lumps. They don't learn any other way. I hope the future holds brighter days for you and the little one. Good luck.

STUDY PSYCHIC SECRETS
EXETER, England (CP) — Housewives at Exeter, Devon, can take evening classes to study ghosts and the supernatural this winter. It is one of the courses arranged by the local Workers' Educational Association.

BABY FILLS UP
HEYWOOD, England (CP) — Victor Reay is called "Tiger" by his relations because he eats more than anyone else in the family. He weighs 35 pounds and is only seven months old. Mrs. Reay says it costs £4 ($12) a week to feed him.

They're the women of the Ku Klux Klan, sometimes organized and sometimes not but all ways around when the KKK rings a blazing cross and listens to speeches about segregation. Because the ladies auxiliary units are geographically separated in the south, their tasks and goals vary, from voter registration drives to sewing robes for their men.

Mrs. Syble Jones of Granite Quarry, N.C., wife of North Carolina Grand Dragon J. Robert Jones, attends each rally and appeals for full trading stamp books. With 400 books already collected, she needs only 1,600 more for an airplane for KKK use.

TEACH BIBLE.
Mrs. Frances Daniel of Macon, Ga., the imperial commander of the Georgia Ladies of the KKK, speaks from the back of a pickup and says: "We need to teach our young boys and girls what the Bible really means. We, as Klan people, know God is with us."

Mrs. Bob Scoggin of Spartanburg, wife of the South Carolina grand dragon, says the auxiliary spends its time in charitable work, along with mailing KKK literature and recruiting.

Mrs. Robert Creel, wife of the Alabama grand dragon and an ex-officio head of the Klan's auxiliary, says her organization helps the men where needed. The last project was a voter registration drive.

Like the Klansmen, the Klan women use colors to designate their rank. Solid white robes with one emblem indicate regular members. Robes with two emblems and gold lining are for imperial officers.

Now They Plan A Centennial . . .
AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP) — The township of Riverhead, near Auckland, was preparing to celebrate its 75th birthday. But historical research unexpectedly revealed that the district had first been settled at least 25 years earlier than believed. Now the preparations have been stepped up to celebrate a centenary instead.

CWL Welcomes New Members

A most impressive candlelight service was held recently in the Church of the Immaculate Conception when nine new members were welcomed to the parish council of the Catholic Women's League of Canada.

Three candles were lighted to symbolize the virtues of Faith, Hope and Charity and each new member, also holding a lighted candle, pledged her allegiance to God and Canada, reiterating the motto of the league.

Immediately following the ceremony a short business meeting was held in St. Joseph's Hall, where the president, Mrs. John Ollinger, reminded the members of the fall regional conference to be held in Rutland on October 24; the rectory pantry shower on November 7, and the fall bazaar which will be held jointly with St. Pius X Church on November 20.

At the conclusion of the meeting the members were entertained by Sister Superior and Sister Loreta Vincent of the Sisters of Charity of Halifax, who showed colored slides of their Mother House in Halifax, Nova Scotia, and of the many schools, convents, hospitals and institutions across Canada and the United States and Bermuda.

Kelowna is indeed fortunate in having a convent of this fine order with 10 Sisters whose teaching abilities are unequalled. The evening was concluded with delicious refreshments served by the hostesses Mrs. J. McDonald, Mrs. V. Reich and Mrs. P. Polman.

AROUND TOWN

Some 15 visiting ladies who are accompanying their husbands to the Automotive Retail Association Convention being held in Kelowna this weekend, will find a warm welcome awaiting them under the co-sponsorship of Mrs. H. N. Curtis.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ratal will welcome the visitors on their arrival at a reception at the Capri Motor Hotel. On Monday at 10:30 a.m. the ladies will attend a coffee party in the Capri Motor Hotel lounge where they will be received by Mrs. Curtis. Mrs. Ronald Prosser and Mrs. C. M. Lipsett will be pouring the coffee, and serving the guests will be Mrs. W. J. Deschauer and Mrs. Archie August.

Monday afternoon Mrs. D. Waters, Mrs. H. Withers and Mrs. A. Brown will offer the ladies a choice of programs including a motor tour of the district, golf, boating or shopping, and on Monday evening the ladies will join their husbands at a "Surprise Package" party at Capri.

The Kelowna Golf and Country Club will be the scene of a luncheon on Tuesday convened by Mrs. Ray Parton. Following which the ladies will be entertained by the singing of the "Young Folk" from the Immaculate High School, and a very interesting fashion show entitled "Motor Maid Modes" at which Mrs. David Brown will act as commentator.

Tuesday evening the ladies will, of course, join their escorts at the Banquet at the Kelowna Aquatic at which the presentations will be made and a number of most attractive door prizes awarded, following the dinner they will be entertained by the "Kelowna Minstrels" and dancing to the music of Descher's Band.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Robinson left on Friday for Golden, B.C. where they will attend the wedding of their son Dale and Miss Isabelle Keene of Golden, before driving on to Calgary to visit their youngest son Richard Robinson.

Intimate friends of Mrs. Gordon Owell were entertained at a delightful farewell party held in her honor by co-hostesses.

TEXTURE BUILDS LUXURY

Texture is a new, worthy note in today's carpet and rug styles. Here, random, embossed pattern is created in looped pile made of continuous filament nylon. The informal pattern complements other textures in a room with a Colonial theme.

Make It Smooth Sanding — Going With The Grain

It's so easy to patch worn areas or finish a whole floor. You'll wonder why you waited so long to tackle the job, especially when you discover that newly finished wooden floors are easier to clean and resist dirt, dust and wear.

Will you patch? Or refinish? In either case, the first step is to remove all traces of wax from the area with turpentine, mineral spirits or a product designed for the job.

A sanding machine makes a simple job of renewing an entire floor. These devices can be rented and are easy to operate. Just remember to sand with the grain of the wood. You'll enjoy seeing the fresh, clean surface revealed through your efforts.

The old floor coating of an entire room can also be taken off with paint and varnish remover. But be certain the ventilation is good while you're working and make sure there are no open flames. Brush the remover onto the surface and let it stand about 20 minutes—until the finish is softened.

ALTERNATE TOOLS

might contain by washing the floor with turpentine or mineral spirits. Pay special attention to cracks and crevices. Remover left on the floor may prevent the drying of the finishing coats.

Before applying the new coating, be sure to clean cracks and fill crevices with prepared filler.

Worn spots on floors finished with penetrating wood seal can be touched up in heavy traffic areas. The seal is a type of varnish that penetrates the wood instead of remaining as a film on the surface. Once the

Housebuilding Prices Increase

OTTAWA (CP) — Housebuilding material prices rose last month to a record but non-residential building materials held steady at their early summer mark, the bureau of statistics reported Wednesday.

The index of residential building materials, based on 1933-38 prices equalling 100, rose half a point to 344.3. The index of non-residential building materials, based on 1949 prices equalling 100, held steady at 158.

The residential materials index now stands more than four per cent higher than it was in September last year, 330.1. The index of non-residential materials is 4½ per cent higher.

floor was free, clean and dry, apply the seal where it's needed, using the color that blends with the rest of the floor.

OVER-ALL FINISH

Penetrating seal can also be a fine all-over finish for your hardwood floors. Start with a clean, smooth-sanded surface and work the seal into the wood according to the direction of the grain.

Wood floors can be coated with a floor paint or enamel—or they can be given a transparent finish with the aid of shellac, varnish or one of the various types of stains produced for the purpose.

Shellac is an excellent finish for all types of flooring and it can be patched successfully when the hard-travelled areas wear thin. Staining is ideal for enhancing the grain of fine woods, and stains give certain softwoods tones similar to hardwoods.

GIVE CLEAR COLOR

Water-based stains are your best bet. They soak in readily and give a clear color to either hardwoods or softwoods. For best results, apply two coats of weak stain, go with the grain and wipe surface at once with a soft cloth—then let dry for at least 24 hours.

Now, apply filler, then varnish or shellac—and finally, wax. Once the new coating is dry, give the floor a final coating of wax to provide added protection and beauty.

HINTS TO HOMEOWNERS

Condensation Problem No Worry In New House

QUESTION: This is our first winter in our newly finished house. We have storm sash throughout. On most of the windows a lot of condensation collects during the night. We have steam heat, oil-fired. It's a ranch type brick with complete finished basement. Will this moisture cause any damage? How can it be corrected?

ANSWER: In a newly built house it takes time before plaster and concrete become thoroughly dry. Condensation from this cause should not give worry, because it is only temporary. Frequently condensation will occur when there is not enough heat in all rooms of the house; or if the heating system doesn't maintain a uniform temperature. Damp air can be carried off by ventilation on bright, dry days. The excess moisture in the house air may come from cooking vapors or drying of laundry or from steam from hot showers, etc. I suggest that you send 25 cents to the National Mineral Wool Insulation Association, 1276 Sixth Ave., New York 10020, for a copy of their excellent informative booklet "Control of Moisture in the Home."

SPOTS ON WASHED FLOOR

QUESTION: I am occupying a brand new house, with varnished floors. When I washed them with water, there appeared black spots the sizes of pennies and I cannot find anything to remove them. Also, where I placed a rubber-backed rug, I have the whole rug in black on the floor. What do you suggest?

ANSWER: Probably the easiest way would be to have the present varnish sanded off and a new finish coat applied.

Dark spots sometimes appear on wood floors when sudsy solutions are used. To remove these spots, first remove any wax with naphtha, being very careful of the fire hazard. Then wash discolored areas with vinegar, allowing it to remain three to four minutes on spots. Wipe dry with clean cloth. Repeat treatment if necessary. If repeated applications not effective, apply a solution of one tablespoon oxalic acid crystals (poison) in one cup water, allowing to remain two or three minutes, then wiping off with damp cloth.

Sandpaper lightly, wipe off dust between the rubber and the varnish. The present varnish in the affected area will have to be removed, and the floor refinished.

Color, Safety Painting Reward

By ELEANOR BORN

Everywhere, you can see the colorful murals worked by paint. Homes and offices—and the appliances and furniture to them—are made brighter with paint.

At the same time, paint protects the surfaces of these things, but it does still more. It is used for precautionary measures in factories, in public places, on the public thoroughfares. So it is wise to make use of paint for home safety, too.

EYE-CATCHING HUES
What to do? Well, how about painting fire extinguishers and first aid kits in eye-catching colors—red for the fire putters, outers, bright green for the first aid kits. Then put them in easily accessible locations and be sure that everyone in your household knows where they are.

What about your stepladder? Have you checked it lately for cracks? This is something that should be done periodically. If it needs repairs or if it needs to be replaced, do so immediately. Once you are sure you have safe, sturdy support, paint the bottom and top steps a bright color. This helps to reduce the chance of a misstep.

Basement steps are another hazard. Frequently, a hurried rush down the steps means a tumble to the bottom. Again, a bright color at the top and bottom is helpful in preventing accidents. Yellow and red are good colors. If your basement is already finished in colors, choose the brightest one at your caution signal.

Steps and falls often occur in dark hallways. It's an excellent idea to paint these areas in light colors and to keep them well illuminated.

Avoid bumps and falls while groping in a darkened room by painting the light switch with luminous paint. You will be able to locate it easily then. Incidentally, these paints are available in colors that match or harmonize with your wall hues.

And even if uninclosed, the attractive appearance of the new models makes their presence no detriment from the

Concept Of Basement Changed Completely From Past Years

Not too long ago, the basement was regarded as a necessary new basement room. And new modern furnaces require a minimum of room, yet give in return a maximum of economical warmth to add to the comfort and well-being of the family. It should be noted that a change of heating plant often pays for itself in the savings in fuel costs.

With all this additional living space made available, the homeowner can add conveniences to suit his wishes and interests and those of his family. A work shop, a dark room for the camera, a place for the family pet, not to mention a place for T.V. viewing or card room. Mother may want one corner for a laundry room complete with modern laundry tub and a drying area. Of course, at a surprising low cost a ½-bath, powder room or cabinet shower offers an extra, much appreciated convenience the whole family can enjoy.

Today, however, the whole concept of a basement has changed, the Canadian Institute of Plumbing and Heating informs us. Many new homes being built have a so-called "finished basement" or, at least, provision is made for the "finishing" at a later date. In the case of more and more older homes, there is a definite trend toward remodeling of the basement, thus changing a tolerated necessity into a valuable asset—extra living space for the family—for recreation, entertaining, hobbies or just a place to "get away from it all."

The first step in basement remodeling usually involves careful thought to the replacement of an old-fashioned worn-out furnace or heating plant. If it is very old and inefficient its replacement is advisable in converting the basement from the role of family junkshop to that of useful living or recreation quarters. The modern plant, to begin with, is compact and can generally be housed in a fairly small enclosure somewhere in a corner, instead of being the lord of the area as the old one was.

And even if uninclosed, the attractive appearance of the new models makes their presence no detriment from the

Pope Reported All Ready For Younger Vatican Curia

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul is reported ready to issue new regulations designed to bring new and younger men into the top levels of the Vatican Curia.

The Curia, the central administrative body of the Roman Catholic Church, is dominated by conservative officials, most of them Italian. Progressives at the Vatican ecumenical council have been urging major reforms to internationalize the organization and end the entrenchment of the old men at the top.

Vatican sources said the Pope would issue a two-part document which would:

- Make 70 the mandatory retirement age for all high positions in the Curia, including cardinals and papal nuncios of archbishop's rank.
- Provide for automatic suspension from their jobs of all cardinals who head Curia departments upon the death of a Pope. The new Pope could then replace or retain each man.

QUESTION REMAINS

It was not known if the retirement rule would apply to those now in control of the 12 congregations, three tribunals and six special offices that make up the Curia. Of 28 cardinals in ranking Curia posts, 22 are over 70.

They include the militant leader of the conservative faction in the ecumenical council, Alfredo Ottaviani, head of the holy office, who will be 75 next week; Amleto Cicognani, the 82-year-old secretary of state; and Eugene Tisserant, 81, the prefect of the ceremonial congregation and the dean of the College of Cardinals.

One of the church's leading progressives, Augustin Cardinal Bea, is 84. But he heads the Vatican's Christian unity secretariat, and his office is not classed as part of the Curia.

The Pope is expected to issue his document by the time the ecumenical council ends in December, before he holds his second consistory to name new cardinals. Some of these will be named also to Curia posts.

Pope Paul died in the fall of 1963, three months after his election, that the Curia would be streamlined to bring it more in tune with the needs of the modern church.

He already has taken the major step of creating an advisory synod of bishops apart from the Curia, chosen from the more than 50 national conferences of Roman Catholic bishops around the world.

In their first assignment, the bishops are at work this week—while the ecumenical council is in recess—preparing advice for the Pope on such questions as the laws of fasting and abstinence from meat, marriage laws affecting Catholics who marry non-Catholics, and possibly opinions on the birth control issue.

Meanwhile, 650 prelates have petitioned the council presidency for a council statement condemning communism, and a leading Italian conservative, Bishop Luigi Carli of Segni, has sent a letter along similar lines to 800 of the bishops.

Although many bishops have asked for this in speeches on the council floor, two reasons are given for the failure of the council to prepare a formal statement on communism.

One is that the council is concerned with offering positive steps instead of condemnations. The other is that harsh words in the name of the 2,300 council fathers could undo several years of improved relations between the Vatican and various Communist governments.

Bishop Both 'Heretic, Prophet' As He Cuts Man's Way To God

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bishop James A. Pike, 52, is a man damned as a heretic and blessed as a prophet.

The wiry, chain-smoking Episcopalian (Anglican) plunges on to slash at barriers which he believes lie in man's path to God.

A former Roman Catholic and former agnostic, this intense, many-sided churchman says he is not discouraged by heresy charges of the fierce and often vicious barbs directed at him by churchmen and laymen alike.

"I am free of the fear of what other people think... what the price may be," he says. "What sort of bishop is this who, within councils of a religious system with a 2,000-year tradition, challenges the doctrine of virgin birth; discounts the doctrine of the trinity and belittles articles of religion in the prayer book of his church?"

READY TO ASK WHY

Pike's own image of himself is as a theological Socrates, who, like that philosopher, is always ready to ask of any man or any idea: Why? Like Socrates, the bishop is a tough man to "turn off." Those around him know him as a charming gentleman of culture and warmth, who can't bear to let a question go by until it is fully, and exhaustively, explained.

When Pike explains, he makes headlines. His opponents have a field day with him, regularly charging him with blasphemy and heresy.

Pike says his enemies are "Goldwater conservatives" and segregationists, mainly, who oppose his liberal views or long time efforts on behalf of equal rights for Negroes. In the rank of his foes he lists fundamentalists who believe in the Bible as literal history.

"They worship earthen vessels instead of the treasure," Pike was born in Oklahoma City, Okla. His father died when Pike was young. The family moved to southern California and the boy attended Hollywood High School. While a senior, he began seriously considering a vocation to the Roman Catholic priesthood.

"Seeing the religious question to be the foremost one, I gave up a chance to go to Harvard on a scholarship, choosing instead to study with Jesuits in what was then a small college (University of Santa Clara) since I understood they would know the most about the faith I had begun to question."

He found it more and more difficult to accept the Roman Catholic position on birth control and papal infallibility.

Lost Christian Faith Very Quickly But Didn't Spurn Or Accept Religion

He left Santa Clara in 1932 after two years. He says he "very quickly" lost his Christian faith and became an agnostic who neither rejected nor accepted religion.

He graduated from the University of Southern California with degrees in arts and law, then took a doctor of law degree at Yale.

In 1942, he married Esther Yanovsky, a former student of his at George Washington University. Soon afterwards he decided to return to religion out of a need for "a more meaningful life." They chose the Episcopal church.

The Second World War intervened in any immediate plans, but he was in a hurry. While serving as a naval intelligence officer on the secret dispatch desk, Pike was admitted as a assistant in the Washington Episcopal diocese. He was ordained a deacon in 1944.

He was elevated to the priesthood and, after six years, in 1952 became dean of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York.

Pike became Bishop of California in 1958 and has been a headline figure ever since. The bishop recently was cleared by the House of Bishops of third heresy charge brought against him since 1961. Pike called the charges "a God for that."

front for opposition to my liberal views and my efforts in behalf of racial equality."

Pike was among those in Selma, Ala., during the civil rights demonstrations this year.

What is likely to be Pike's last combat for a while revolved around his effort to ordain a woman a deacon of the Episcopal church. This was one of the eight issues brought by the Arizona churchmen before the House of Bishops last September. On this issue Pike lost.

It involved Mrs. Phyllis Edwards, who graduated from the theological school and became a deaconess in the California diocese. Her assignment in San Francisco's Mission district, Pike felt it was time the church had a woman minister and he announced his intention of ordaining Mrs. Edwards a perpetual deacon.

That is the third level of the ministry, the first two being bishop and priest. A great outcry followed the news.

Late in September, after the deaconess furor, Bishop Pike left his cathedral for a six-month sabbatical at Cambridge University in England. He plans to visit Rhodesia and the Middle East.

Cubs Rout Dons For Fifth Victory

Kelowna Cubs racked up their fifth win at Ellis Stadium Friday night, when they routed the Inmaculata Dons 25-6, in an Okanagan Mainline High School Football League encounter.

For Dons, it was their sixth straight defeat, keeping them bogged down in the cellar. They showed an improvement over their previous games, although not equalling the record-setting 122 yards rushing of their last game. Their total Friday night was 140 yards.

Meanwhile, Cubs' quarterback Dick Van Nostrand passed at leisure, to outdo Dons' quarterback Rich Monaghan by 86-4 in yardage. He completed five for 12.

Cubs' touchdowns came from end Tom Treadgold, who grabbed a 61-yard pass from Van Nostrand, and halfbacks Gerry Heron, Allan Larson, Bill Rawlings and fullback Doug Mildenberger.

Cubs tore through the Dons' ranks on the ground, to rack up an impressive total of 289 yards rushing.

Fullback Perry Stang was the star of the turf, churning through Inmaculata's lines for 141 yards.

Mike Brown shone in the late part of the first quarter, when he latched onto a handoff from Monaghan, and stomped 72 yards down the field, to put Inmaculata on the scoreboard. Heron intercepted an Inmaculata pass and rumbled 40 yards to counter Brown's TD. Dons' Monaghan was thrown out of the game late in the third quarter, for unsportsmanlike conduct. He clipped an opponent after play was dead.

"Sniping" At CFL Officials Costly To Commentators

CALGARY (CP)—A Calgary sports editor has discovered that the rule is "speak no evil" when it comes to broadcast comments on Canadian Football League officials.

Gordon Hunter, sports editor of the Calgary Herald, said Friday that payment was withheld for a play-by-play broadcast he did with Eric Bishop of radio station CKLJ, Calgary, because they criticized the officiating.

The game in question was played in Montreal Oct. 11 between Calgary Stampeders and Montreal Alouettes. The radio broadcast was originated in Montreal by CKLJ.

"We were fined by the station because the contract the station has with the league expressly prohibits criticizing officials on their calls during the game, before and after," Hunter said in an interview.

Hunter said he resented during the broadcast that there were calls that he couldn't understand that officiating was spoiling the quality of play and Bishop's comments were on the same lines.

"If I'd known a fine would be involved, I'd have told the whole truth—that the officiating was poor, pathetic, incompetent and sloppy," Hunter said in a column Thursday.

In Vancouver, Allan McEachern, chairman of the Western Football Conference radio and television committee, said he initiated criticism of Hunter's statements.

Radio rights for WFC games were sold to station CKNW of New Westminster, B.C., for subletting to other stations. This was on the understanding that the quality of the broadcasts would be discussed by the league and the station with the purpose of increasing the objectivity.

"The contract with CKNW specifically prohibits the broadcasting of criticism aimed at officials," he said.

He had discussed the Hunter broadcast with manager Bill Hughes of CKNW during a discussion of several other broadcasts. The matter was left at that and it was then "strictly an internal matter."

The league has no power to fine broadcasters or ask stations to fine commentators, McEachern said. However, commissioner Sydney Haller has the power to prevent a man from doing broadcasts.

"GREATEST FARCE" COUGHS UP REFUND

ASBURY PARK, N.J. (AP)—A man who paid $10 for a closed circuit television viewing of last May's Canadian Clay - Sonny Liston heavyweight title fight and then charged the fight was "the greatest farce ever perpetrated on the American public," was given his money back Friday.

Ronald Lewis, a New York stockbroker who lives in Elmhurst, N.J., bought a ticket from the Mayfair Theatre in Asbury Park to see the May 25 fight. It lasted one minute as Clay knocked out Liston to retain the world championship.

Lewis filed a suit to recover the price of his ticket, charging the match was "not a genuine prize fight." Lewis' lawyer, David Friedland, said he received a letter Friday from lawyers for the theatre enclosing a cheque for $10.

Stick Duel Disrupts Game

ROSELAND (CP)—Roseland Warriors defeated Spokane 5-1 here Friday night in a Western International Hockey League game in which both teams engaged in a second-period fight.

Bob Andrews led the Warriors to victory, scoring two picture goals. Alex Reid, John Thompson and Gerry Godfrey added Roseland tallies.

Don McGowan was the lone marksman for Spokane.

The second-period battle started when Spokane defenceman Tom Hodges high-tailed Roseland winger Billy Martin.

Roseland goalkeeper Seth Martin, Billy's uncle, rushed from his net and engaged Hodges in a wild stick-wielding duel that lasted about two minutes.

Both benches emptied as players poured onto the ice, where they fought and milled around. Referees took five minutes to restore order.

Nelson Smacks Fledgling Royals

NELSON (CP)—Despite a stellar game by goalie Phil Headley, Cranbrook Royals went down to a 6-2 defeat at the hands of Nelson Maple Leafs in a Western International Hockey League game here Friday night.

Cranbrook led 2-1 in the first period.

Howie Horaby led Nelson scorers with two goals. Carl Chaschka, Murray Owens, Gail Holden and Danny Calles got singles. Leon Garringer and Pacula scored for Cranbrook.

Habs Favored To Repeat As NHL Springs To Life

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The Stanley Cup champion Montreal Canadiens are favored to finish first in the 1965-66 National Hockey League schedule gets under way tonight.

The Toronto Maple Leafs play host to Chicago Black Hawks and Detroit Red Wings tackle the Canadiens.

All six clubs are in action Sunday with Toronto at Detroit, Montreal at New York against the Rangers and Chicago playing the Bruins at Boston.

Two major factors place Montreal as a winner among the pundits—speed and an injury-free roster.

The three positions behind Montreal should be a toss-up among the Leafs, Wings and Hawks.

The Rangers, with a combination of youth and hustle are expected to be a first-division threat.

The league is getting off to its latest start in 20 years. The 1944-45 season began Oct. 12 and the playoffs ended May 1.

It also marks the 20th NHL season for Red Wings stars Gordie Howe and Bill Gadsby, tying a league record set by former Bruin Dit Clapper.

A new rule this year requires each team to have two goalies dressed for each game.

The return of coach Toe Blake for another season is in itself enough in a season for the speedy Canadians.

POWER PLAY STRONG
With the 37-year-old Howe as its nucleus Detroit's power play, which could prove to be the best in the league, includes all-star Norm Ullman, a 42-goal scorer last season, recently acquired veteran Andy Bathgate, Alex Delvecchio and defencemen Doug Barkley.

The best defence and solid goaltending in the league rests with Toronto in veterans Johnny Bower and Terry Sawchuk.

An improvement for Chicago is that they will not have to rely so much on its all-stars—left-winger Bobby Hull, centre Stan Mikita, defenceman Pierre Pilote and goalie Glenn Hall. The team should click more as a team in its bid to reach first place.

The Rangers are without super stars, but last year their hustling style of play suggested they were shooting for better things than fifth place.

The Bruins are still considered the NHL's weak-links even though they have a new general manager in Hap Emms, formerly with Niagara Falls Flyers of the OHA Junior A series.

Ed Buchanan of the Roughriders is still limping from a leg injury that sidelined him 12 games ago, and coach Eagle Keys was not sure how much the explosive halfback would be used.

Homer's defensive half spot will be filled by Mack Burton. Dick Fouts, named the outstanding lineman in the WFL, is a doubtful starter at defensive end.

Edmonton Eskimos made three changes to meet the stand-pat Blue Bombers at Winnipeg in a game televised nationally by the CBC.

The Lions will welcome back offensive tackle Lonnie Dennis who ended a year's retirement to help straighten out the pass blocking. That enables coach Dave Skrien to return Sonny Homer to offensive in an effort to spruce up the pass receiving and to use punt return specialist Bill Lasseter in the offensive backfield.

Bucks Bomb "Sad" Kings

Kelowna Buckaroos wasted little time in asserting themselves Friday night before a crowd of some 1,200 homeown fans. The Okanagan Junior Hockey League champions rumbled to a 5-4 win over the Kamsloops Kralfs.

The game was a scrappy contest and the homeowners left little doubt of the outcome midway through the initial period. It was Bucks second consecutive win over Kamsloops, who have dropped their three starts.

Kamsloops jumped into an early lead when Dale Sandtyke fired a screen shot past Terry Lawrence at 3:05 of the opening frame.

tricked a soft shot under substitute goaltender Wally Denaault, who replaced Rudarich around the 12-minute mark of the period.

Dave Cousins opened the third period scoring spurge with a blast from the point at 1:23. Shishido backhanded a shot that caught the cross bar behind Lawrence a few minutes later.

The tussle kept trading goals the rest of the way. Rizzuto got his first at 9:37 shipping the rubber banking Denaault after some neat stick work. Janicki fired an unassisted marker just past the half way mark of the period. It was a disputed goal. Kelowna claimed a whistle had gone for an off-side prior to the goal but play was not halted. After consulting with the linesman referee Ray Powell allowed the score.

Crack Russian Volleyballers Miss Out On Mexican Trip

TORONTO (CP)—The Russian volleyball team, headed on a two-week tour of Canada Friday night disappointed because it won't be allowed to go to Mexico.

The team had negotiated for a Mexican trip but was advised before games at Maple Leaf Gardens Friday night that the trip was off.

"We wanted to play in Mexico to get used to the 7,347-foot altitude and prepare ourselves for the next Olympic Games," said Russian manager Vladimir Sobol.

"The excuse the Mexicans gave us is that a Japanese team has just played there."

The Russians won with ease over the United States men's and women's teams, their seventh winning night on the tour.

The Russian women's team won 15-3, 15-4, 15-6, while the men won with scores of 15-12, 15-4 and 15-0.

Five-Year Dam Study Planned By Fish And Game Branch

A five-year study with a budget of $50,000 for the first year is planned to determine the effects of the Duncan dam on the Kootenay Lake fishery. The study was launched by the Fish and Game Branch of the Department of Recreation.

A $50,000 consulting firm is already under construction on the Duncan River and is expected to be finished by the middle of September.

Dr. A. H. Acers, a specialist in fish biology and one assistant, E. H. Mills, will spend the next three weeks establishing a laboratory near Balfour.

The project is being financed by the B.C. Hydro and is a result of the interest and efforts of E. H. Smith, chief of Fisheries Management, who has played an important role in getting the project launched.

The West Kootenay Fish and Game Clubs Association also played an important role in getting the project started.

It has been established that four million chinook, 1,000,000 coho and steelhead, and an unknown number of Dolly Varden will be affected by the construction of the Duncan Dam.

By September there will be four biologists including Dr. Acers and two technicians working on the project. There will be up to 20 men working when part-time help has been added to the staff.

The researchers will be equipped with all necessary limnological equipment costing over $50,000 and three boats and two trucks worth over $20,000. The boats are 21, 25 and 30 feet long and each will be equipped with a 100 volt power generator, a digital thermometer, thermometer and other technical equipment.

Drivers Deadly For Whitetails

It would seem that Wisconsin whitetails have other enemies besides hunters to worry about. An announcement from the state's Conservation Department reports that nearly 1,000 deer were killed by automobiles on Wisconsin's highways last year. The deer deaths by auto have been rising steadily for the past decade, with the toll up from 4,000 in 1955. Ten years ago, the department states, the automobile was responsible for a deer kill of only 700.

SPORTS UTILITY . . .

The Sports Utility has all the standard features of the Roadster plus a short steel roof and side doors equipped with roll-up windows, a combination that provides complete weather protection. The sturdy roof top weighs only 70 pounds and is bolted on for ready removal when desired. A full width bench type front seat is standard. Optional bucket seats are available for driver or for driver and passenger. The double-walled rear area has over 22 cubic feet of space for your camping or other gear. Wheel housings are flat on top for extra convenience. The Sports Utility, along with the Roadster and Wagon, has a full width 66 inch tailgate with a handy one-hand-operated latch.

WAGON . . .

The Wagon has a full-length roof with upper body sides installed on the basic body. The two driver-passenger doors are steel with roll-up windows. The upper body sides have large fixed windows. The rear liftgate also has a large fixed window and may be locked in the open position for ventilation. The tailgate may be left in the horizontal position for carrying long items. The entire enclosed area can be completely locked. The top and upper body sides are bolted on and can be removed if desired. A bench type rear seat is available on wagon equipped with the optional bucket seats. The steel bulkhead is deleted when the rear seat option is supplied.

Hunters Shun Dressing Deer

Dressing and skinning a deer are two things a lot of hunters shy away from. The catchword, they say, is "avoid."

But it's not, if you know what you are doing.

First thing is securing a quick accurate kill for an animal that is able to approach and easy to dress and move. The points to aim for are the heart, neck and brain.

While in other parts of the body some needless suffering or allow a wounded deer to escape. If you are not able to make an immediate kill, keep after the deer. You may be surprised how close you will find him.

It's imperative to bleed the deer at once. The quality of the meat will be impaired if you don't insert a sharp knife at the base of the neck where it joins the chest and cut the artery at that point. Try to prevent the blood clotting. Keep the wound open and drain off as much blood as possible.

This can be most easily done if the deer is hanging by his head, or is lying on a sloping ground with his head and back on the up slope.

A good, strong rope is essential to the prepared hunter. With this the deer can be pulled over a limb, or at least his head and the forward part of his body can be lifted off the ground making dressing an easier procedure.

Even if the deer must be dressed lying on the ground, the rope can be handy for tying one hind leg to a bush or rock to keep it out of the way while you're working.

Kokanee Spawn Habits Studied

A paper on the spawning migration of kokanee at Nicola lake is nearing completion and will be submitted for publication in the Journal of the Fisheries Research Board of Canada.

Information obtained on the behavior of kokanee entering spawning streams at Nicola lake may prove most useful in evaluating effects of reservoirs which will be constructed on other rivers supporting spawning runs of kokanee.

Sighting Gun "Important" Before Taking To Woods

"Before you go afield in search of big game," says arms expert Ted McCawley, "be sure you sight in your rifle. This is particularly important if you have a new gun, but don't forget that even your old favorite can get out of adjustment."

"A properly sighted-in rifle increases the chances of successful hunting by insuring that it will hit where it is aimed. Not to be overlooked is the opportunity that the procedure gives for sportmen to refresh themselves on the fundamentals of safe gun handling and good marksmanship.

"Most rifle ranges have facilities that they will share with hunters for this purpose. The National Rifle Association and its affiliated clubs sponsor 'sighting-in' days each fall.

Trappers' Decline Boon to Beavers

VICTORIA (CP)—The life expectancy of B.C. beavers is rising as trappers forsake their business for the rest of the life of the animal.

Game officials said recently, the low fur harvest of beaver and other animals could be partially traced to the fact trappers are moving into better paying jobs in industry.

With the number of trappers reduced by the expanding economy of the north, the beavers and other animals are enjoying greater longevity the report said.

Four seasonal conditions for trapping were given as another factor.

The game officials said the situation helped cause a drop of $254,000 in the return from fur animals in the province.

The fish and game branch reported trappers netted $288,216 in the year up to June 30 compared with $254,422 in the previous year.

The price of beaver pelt dropped about $2 and roughly 3,000 fewer beaver were trapped this year.

Authorities say they are trying to encourage more trapping despite the attractive offers of industry and construction.

One of the steps taken is increasing the length of the beaver season to give trappers a better opportunity to harvest more prime pelts.

Whoopers Increase But Still Scarce

The world's whooping crane population increased in number from 20 to 25 in 1954, more than a 25 per cent increase, according to Bruce Paynter, director of wildlife in Saskatchewan.

Paynter said the 11 new whoopers represented "the largest increase in whooping cranes reported in many years."

MR. BRUM JUST A FRAUD

Although most people would mention the bear as the best known hibernator, the scientists say he is not a true hibernator at all.

Mr. Brum goes into a dreamy condition alright, but his body temperature does not fall and several other changes don't occur as in the case of true hibernators.

HEARING ORGANS UNDEVELOPED

Fish React to Vibrations

More than 200 years ago, St. Francis Bacon said that fish would come up to feed at the sound of a ringing bell. It was not until much later that a doubting Thomas removed a bell's clapper and lo, the fish responded with equal alacrity. Apparently, sight had a great deal to do with the fish's first hearing.

The fish does have hearing organs but they are exceedingly rudimentary. It is much more likely that the reaction to vibrations which is felt through the water.

Along this chain, he has a line that which is called the median lateral line. Along it, the scales have depressions that hold in the form of three holes. In the form, these holes are large enough to be seen, being as large as pinholes. Out of these holes come nerve ends which conduct to sensory nerve centers. More than likely the fish (or some) through these.

Acoustic waves do not penetrate into the water mass. Practically all of them, such as human conversation tones, human off. In fact, I have even discharged a shotgun over rising fish without affecting them.

Opening lead—king of hearts. Let's say you're playing this hand at four spades and West leads the king of hearts, which you ruff. You can't avoid losing a diamond, so all your thoughts are concentrated on losing two club tricks, not three.

In line with this you cash the K-A of spades, after which you lead a club to the king. When it wins the trick you are then faced with a vital decision.

If you play a low club now, you go down, but if you play the ace now, you make the contract. You don't see the adverse cards?

The answer to this is yes; the reason for it is that the queen is the percentage play.

If you consider every possible division of the outstanding clubs after the king wins the first club lead, you find that the size of the club led next makes no difference if the clubs are divided either 3-3 or 5-1. In these cases, you either make the contract or you don't; whichever you select does not matter.

It is only when the clubs are divided 4-3 that your play can make a difference, and, if all pertinent cases are examined, you find that the eight play gains only when East started with the doubleton ace, while with the queen play gains whenever East has four clubs to the A-10 or A-10.

The hands where East has four clubs to the A-J or A-10 outnumber those where East has the doubleton ace by about 2 to 1, and since there are seven chances for the percentage play, the queen play is the hope that it will force the ace and at the same time fell the jack or ten. What the queen play amounts to is an effort to kill two birds with one stone.

FOR TOMORROW
It may be difficult for you to follow yourself to certain prevailing trends and opinions, but it would help if you try to make temporary concessions. Much better influences will prevail on Tuesday.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If tomorrow is your birthday, your chart presents some pleasing prospects for the year ahead — especially where personal relationships are concerned. If you are unwed, there will be four periods within the next 12 months during which, under the most favorable planetary blemish, you could wind your way to the altar. They will occur in January, May, late June and late July, 1964. Stimulating social activities and an increase in your personal popularity are indicated during the next two months, in July, and early next September.

If you are careful not to make hasty decisions and avoid risky speculation, job and financial matters should also go well — especially between now and the end of March. Next good periods for monetary gain: The entire month of September and late October of next year; for job promotion and/or business

THE DAY AFTER TOMORROW
Persons who are competitive with you may tend to be somewhat blustering on Monday, but you will find it to your ultimate advantage not to come to grips with them just yet. Time very much on your side right now.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If Monday is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that prospects where your personal life is concerned. Pleasant domestic relationships, a stimulating social life and great romantic happiness during the year ahead. Best periods also these times: Late December, January, May, June, late July and early September.

Where occupational and financial matters are concerned, look for excellent results throughout the year — but especially during next June and September. A change of home environment in July could prove highly advantageous.

A high boost on this day to practical, highly dependable and endowed with a great sense of responsibility.

HAYNEVILLE, AL. (AP)—The state rested its case Friday in the second murder trial of Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., a young Ku Klux Klanman, after an FBI ballistics expert testified that bullets which killed a white civil rights worker were fired from a gun introduced as evidence.

The gun, a .38-calibre Smith and Wesson revolver, was identified Thursday by an FBI informer as the one used to kill Mrs. Viola Liuzzo March 23.

Marion E. Williams of the FBI criminal laboratory, Washington, said markings on a bullet taken from Mrs. Liuzzo's head and test bullets fired from the pistol bore similar markings. He said empty cartridges found one-half mile from Mrs. Liuzzo's car on a highway in Lowndes County also were from the same gun.

Gary Thomas Rowe, a 35-year-old Klansman turned FBI informer testified Thursday that the 21-year-old Wilkins emptied a pistol into Mrs. Luizzo's car after a night-time, high-speed auto chase on the highway.

Williams testified that at least five bullets struck Mrs. Luizzo's car and that three, including the one which killed her, were recovered.

TYNACH, Ireland (Reuters) — Prime Minister Sean Lemass Friday officially opened a huge lead, zinc and silver open pit mine here, owned by the Northgate Exploration Co. of Toronto.

The mine cost $12,500,000 and a three-year search to develop it. But with a production worth between $12,000,000 and $13,000,000 a year, the company expects to pay off the development cost within two years.

WASHINGTON (CP) — Justice Minister Claude Wagner of Quebec says he has passed on new information to American officials linking organized crime in Canada and the United States.

Wagner paid a visit to Washington and indicates after a conference with U.S. Attorney General Nicholas Katzenbach that the new information he gave about organized crime in Quebec could lead to arrests in U.S.

Wagner also indicated American money is involved in underworld arson murders in his province. Four bodies have been found so far near Quebec City and the search still is on for perhaps eight others.

Sparkling Winter Carnival Aim Of Vernon Committee

VERNON—More new ideas, rival co-chairman, Mrs. W. Lewis, which, it is hoped, will make for an even more sparkling winter carnival than that which has been enjoyed for the past few years, continue to pour forth.

At a meeting of the Vernon Winter Carnival Committee on Oct. 19, it was suggested that snowmobile racing, an automobile destruction derby and judo championships be added to this year's attractions.

Jack E. Passmore proposed the competitive snowmobile races, suggesting Swan Lake or Goose Lake as possible locations, with competitions between possibly a service club vs. another service club; firemen vs. the city hall staff and other combinations were among the ideas mulled over.

Mr. Passmore said the Vernon Ski-doo Rentals would supply the machines cost free to the winter carnival. These machines run on 25 mph. A major trophy would be donated by Seymour Equipment Limited, also three minor trophies. Mr. Passmore told the meeting this competition would be the first in Western Canada.

The Girl Guides are interested in sponsoring an event during the carnival, according to car-

FURTHER PLANS

The city is entertaining the idea of a new float; and carnival chairman William Ockley, assistant city engineer Len Geets, with Harry Haines are to meet shortly to further probe plans.

Chairman Ockley suggested that a carnival budget of $10,000 expenditures and $11,000 for income be drawn up. S. John Ladymann is the society's treasurer, and is taking this under advisement.

Already some organizations have put forward queen candidates names. They are: Miss Linda Watson, sponsored by the Vernon Junior Chamber of Commerce; Miss Betty Goldsmith, the choice of Vernon Girls' Trumpet Band; Miss Laura Donovan, backed by Vernon Gyro Club.

Centennial To Be C Of C Theme For October Lunch Meeting

Vernon Chamber of Commerce holds its October general luncheon meeting at the National Hotel, Thursday, at noon.

The chamber is sponsoring a presentation by the Vernon Centennial Committee of its progress to date and its expectations for both 1966 and 1967 Centennial programs in the city of Vernon. Speakers at this luncheon will include Jack Wilson, Centennial Committee Chairman, and Dennis Overend, Centennial Publicity Chairman.

Also present will be committee members Mayor Elwood Rice, Mrs. Vera McCulloch, Mrs. Mabel Johnson, Mrs. Gordon Mutrie, and Mr. John Maynard. A question period will follow. The chamber has mailed invitations to a large number of Vernon service clubs and fraternal orders inviting them to attend this luncheon, to enable such organizations to carry the Centennial program back to their respective groups.

As British Columbia is celebrating two Centennaries - 1966 and 1967 - attractive folders have been printed for mailing entitled "Invitation to B.C." At the recent Canadian Tourist Convention, the Vernon Chamber of Commerce was awarded a certificate of merit, one of the top national awards. In recent years they have won two such awards, and three honorable mentions in this highly competitive field.

ARMSTRONG AND DISTRICT

At the regular monthly meeting of the Armstrong-Spallumcheen Hospital Board, held in the hospital Monday, a committee composed of Alderman H.C. Hoover, Councillor P.N. Buyer, and Mrs. D. H. Levey was appointed to look into the possibility of a building program for the hospital. This committee is to inform the public on hospital needs, and to seek public opinion on a proposal to construct a new acute bed hospital, and to convert the present hospital into a chronic care nursing home.

Leopold Roy, proprietor of the Armstrong Bowling Alley, has announced this week that he has sold the business to Robert Whyte, who is taking over immediately. Mr. Roy has been owner of the bowling alley for nine years. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whyte reside on Rosedale Avenue East. They moved to this district about a year and a half ago. Mr. Whyte has operated similar businesses in Kilmat, Kemano, and Langley.

At the annual rally of the Canadian Bible Society, held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Armstrong, on Tuesday Evening, the 1965 slate of Officers was returned. These are: president, John McKeech; vice-president, Mrs. W. J. Bradley; and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Martin Meggitt. There was a good turnout to hear Mr. De Groot, from Kelowna, and see the film "Freedom in Their Souls".

Sharing in the scholarships and bursaries recently announced by the Pacific Command of the Royal Canadian Legion were Daniel Aspinall, and Kenneth LeDuc, both of Armstrong. Each received $300 awards for first year University at UBC. Both are members

New Company For Revelstoke

President James Sinclair of Lafarge Cement of North America Ltd. announced Friday in Vancouver the company has bought a minority interest in Revelstoke Building Materials Ltd.

A new company, Revelstoke Lafarge Ltd., will take over the B.C. operations of Revelstoke Building Materials. President will be Brett F. Sine of Calgary.

Revelstoke has ready - mix plants and building supply outlets in Fort St. John and Dawson Creek and a ready-mix plant in Prince George.

Mr. Sinclair said Revelstoke's sawmill operations in central and southern B.C. will not be operated by the new company.

Santa Fe Engine Takes To Highway

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) - A city street crew inadvertently covered a stretch of railway tracks with tar. Minutes later, a rolling Santa Fe switch engine slid off the tracks and onto the street. No one was hurt. The train was pulled back onto the tracks some distance away.

APPEAL RETURNS
VERNON—As of October 20, monies turned in to headquarters for the 1965 Vernon and District United Appeal campaign amounted to $9,331.62. With an objective of $40,000, officials of the drive are quite optimistic about the success of this year's campaign.

PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVE

POLICIES FOR PEOPLE

WILL BUILD A NEW CANADA FOR YOU AND YOUR CHILDREN

WESTERN FARMS PROGRAM

"A Progressive Conservative Government will bring back energy and vision to federal agriculture policy so that all farmers will receive a fair share of Canada's national income."
— HON. ALVIN HAMILTON

- 1. EXPAND WHEAT SALES
The Progressive Conservative Government started the wheat sales to Russia and China. A new PC Government will continue this aggressive sales program for farm products, and provide credit for export sales.
- 2. EXPAND PORT FACILITIES
Canada lost sales of 100 million bushels of grain in 1963-64 because of lack of port facilities. Our national grain handling facilities were built for annual export of 300 million bushels. They should be large enough for 600 million bushels. Increased exports of pulp, paper, sulphur, coal, iron ore, copper, lumber and potash demand immediate expansion of Canada's port facilities.
- 3. LIVESTOCK INSURANCE
A Progressive Conservative government will extend crop insurance coverage to livestock, and raise the 60% limit to not less than 80%.
- 4. LIVESTOCK EXPANSION
Canada needs a large livestock population. The Progressive Conservatives will put on a new drive for community pastures, promote forage banks, feed grain banks, and accelerate water conservation programs and plan northern river diversions to provide water in the south.
- 5. FARM CREDIT
A Progressive Conservative Government will assure farm credit with low interest rates for young people to expand and improve farms and farm homes.

SOCIAL JUSTICE

- A Progressive Conservative government stands for a full program of Social Justice for all Canadians.
- Old Age Pensions $100 a month WITHOUT MEANS TEST.
 - Education for All. University grants doubled, meaning LOWER TUITION FEES. Expansion of vocational schools to meet today's demand for skills.
 - Deduct $500 for Municipal Taxes paid from taxable income for federal income tax. This means immediate federal sharing of elementary school costs.
 - Medicare. If you want a national health plan, including universal Medicare with PROPER PRIORITIES AND EFFICIENTLY MANAGED, vote Progressive Conservative on November 8.

OTHER SOLID POLICIES FOR PEOPLE AND FOR PROGRESS

- NHA Mortgage on Older Homes to aid labor mobility.
- End of the Sales Tax on Drugs and stop the penalty for being sick.
- Recreational Parks AM near our cities.
- Consumer's Loan Act to cut the high cost of instalment buying.
